THE ARTICLE

From <https://breakingnewsenglish.com/2109/210930-turtle.html>

There are many reasons for delays at airports. Sometimes it's bad weather, sometimes it's a technical problem, and other times it's a passenger who is late to the boarding gate. Narita Airport in Tokyo, Japan has added a new cause of flight delays - a turtle going for a walk. The runway at Narita had to close for 12 minutes because a 2.1-kilogram turtle was spotted on the tarmac. The pilot of an airplane waiting to take off told air traffic controllers about the small reptile at around 11:35am. There was an immediate search for it. This caused the delay of five flights. Airport staff managed to locate the creature. They safely removed it with a net. They reported that it was unharmed.

A Narita Airport spokesperson said she believed the turtle lived in a nearby pond. It managed to get under a fence alongside the airport and crawl onto the runway. The turtle might have decided to sunbathe because of the warm weather. It was a lot warmer than usual at the airport for the time of the year. Shortly after the turtle was caught, an A380 airplane took off from the runway. By coincidence, the A380 was painted in a turtle design. The plane was from the Japanese airline ANA. It was going to the island of Okinawa in the south of Japan. An ANA spokesperson said: "Turtles are seen as bringing good luck. We hope this turtle, who came to see the flight off, signals a bright future."

WARM-UPS

1. TURTLES: Students walk around the class and talk to other students about turtles. Change partners often and share your findings.

2. CHAT: In pairs / groups, talk about these topics or words from the article. What will the article say about them? What can you say about these words and your life?

delays / airports / bad weather / technical problems / flight delays / pilot / creature / turtle / pond / sunbathe / airplane / runway / coincidence / island / good luck / future

Have a chat about the topics you liked. Change topics and partners frequently.

3. AIRPORT SECURITY: Students A strongly believe airports should increase their security so turtles can't get in; Students B strongly believe that's silly. Change partners again and talk about your conversations.

4. REPTILES: What do you know about these reptiles? How much do you like them? Complete this table with your partner(s). Change partners often and share what you wrote.

	What I Know	How Much I Like Them
Turtles
Komodo dragons
Snakes
Geckos
Alligators
Chameleons

5. DELAY: Spend one minute writing down all of the different words you associate with the word "delay". Share your words with your partner(s) and talk about them. Together, put the words into different categories.

6. AIRPORT DELAYS: Rank these with your partner. Put the things that are most likely to cause flight delays at the top. Change partners often and share your rankings.

- Turtles
- Late passengers
- Security alerts
- Weather
- Technical problems
- Bird strikes
- Cabin cleaning
- Waiting for luggage

There are many reasons for delays at airports. Sometimes it's bad weather, sometimes it's a technical problem, and other times it's a passenger who is late to the boarding gate. Narita Airport in Tokyo, Japan has added a new cause of flight delays - a turtle going for a walk. The runway at Narita had to close for 12 minutes because a 2.1-kilogram turtle was spotted on the tarmac. The pilot of an airplane waiting to take off told air traffic controllers about the small reptile at around 11:35 am. There was an immediate search for it. This caused the delay of five flights. Airport staff managed to locate the creature. They safely removed it with a net. They reported that it was unharmed. A Narita Airport spokesperson said she believed the turtle lived in a nearby pond. It managed to get under a fence along the side of the airport and crawl onto the runway. The turtle might have decided to sunbathe because of the warm weather. It was a lot warmer than usual at the airport for the time of the year. Shortly after the turtle was caught, an A380 airplane took off from the runway. By coincidence, the A380 was painted in a turtle design. The plane was from the Japanese airline ANA. It was going to the island of Okinawa in the south of Japan. An ANA spokesperson said: "Turtles are seen as bringing good luck. We hope this turtle, who came to see the flight off, signals a bright future."
