

Breaking News English.com

Man sells everything for AI dream "partner" – 22nd October 2026

Level 0

A man had a sad experience looking for love. He sold everything he owned to meet a woman he met online. He travelled 2,000 kilometres to see her. When the man went to meet her, he could not find her. He showed people photos of her, but nobody knew her. He found out that she was not real. She was made by AI.

The man's story shows that online love is risky. People can be tricked. AI can make people look real. The online woman looked like a real person. Mr X hopes people do not make the mistake he made. He said that loneliness can cause people to have "many problems" in their life.

Level 1

A man, Mr X, had a sad experience looking for love. He sold everything he owned to get money to see a woman. He met her online. He travelled 2,000 kilometres by bus to see her. Her name was Jessica. Her online profile read: "I want you to come to my farm and never work again in your life." Mr X went to meet her, but he could not find her. He showed people photos of her, but nobody knew her. He found out that she was not real. She was made by AI.

Mr X's story shows that online love is risky. People try to find a partner online, but they can be tricked. This is because AI can make people look real. Jessica looked like a real woman. The person who made her wanted her to help sell things on their website. Mr X hopes people do not make the mistake he made. He said: "Sometimes, loneliness at home causes many problems in a person's life."

Level 2

A man, Mr X, had a sad experience in his search for love. Mr X sold everything he owned to get money to see a woman he met online. He travelled over 2,000 kilometres by bus to see her. Her name was Jessica. Her online profile read: "I really want to support you. I want you to come to my farm and never work again in your life." Mr X went to a city in Brazil to meet her, but he could not find her. He showed people photos of her. However, nobody knew who she was. He then found out that she was not real. She was made by AI. The man was sad. He said: "I came here to find happiness."

Mr X's story shows that it is risky to look for love online. Many people try to find a partner online, but they can be tricked. This is because AI can make people look real. Jessica had over 300,000 followers. She looked like a real woman. The person who created her wanted to get people's attention online. They wanted to use Jessica to help sell things. Mr X hopes people do not make a similar mistake in the future. It is important to check the identity of someone you meet online. Mr X said: "Sometimes, loneliness at home causes many problems in a person's life."

Level 3

A man in Brazil had a sad experience in his search for love. Mr X, 49, sold everything he owned to get enough money to see a woman he met online. He travelled over 2,000 kilometres by bus. He first met her online in 2020 and fell in love with her. He wanted to marry her. Her name was Jessica. Her online profile read: "I really want to support you. I want you to come to my farm and never work again in your life." Mr X went to meet her in the city of Belo Horizonte, but he could not find her. He showed people photos of her, but nobody knew who she was. He then found out that she was not real. She was created by AI. The man was sad. He said: "I came here to find happiness."

Mr X's story shows how risky it can be to look for love online. Many people feel lonely and want to find a partner. However, they can be easily tricked because AI can make people who look and sound real. Jessica's social media account had over 300,000 followers. She looked like a real woman. The person who created Jessica said they made her to get people's attention online. They wanted to use the AI Jessica to help sell things. Mr X wants people to be careful so they don't make a similar mistake in the future. It is important to check the identity of a person you meet online carefully. The man said: "Sometimes, loneliness at home causes many problems in a person's life."