14th February

WARM-UPS

CHAT: Talk in pairs / groups about love / cupid / Valentine's Day / romance / roses / chocolate / heart

VALENTINE DATE: With a partner spend five minutes planning THE ultimate romantic Valentine's date, either for a woman, or for a man. Change partners and explain the details of your date to your new partner. With your new partner, decide on the best parts of your two plans to make a new, even more romantic date. Repeat with another partner, and perhaps another. Return to your original partner and compare how your date is now different from the original.

PRESENTS: Choose the best three and worst three of these Valentines presents and tell your partner. Explain why they are the best and worst:

- heart-shaped Belgian chocolates -
- Chanel #5 (for women and men)
- 12 red roses
- a single red rose
- your sweetheart singing a love song beneath your bedroom window in the moonlight
- sexy underwear
- a cute pink teddy bear
- a heart-shaped cake made by your loved one
- a gold necklace with small hearts on it
- a special poem written by your partner
- a weekend trip for two to Paris
- a romantic candlelit dinner at a French restaurant
- a special massage
- a bottle of champagne
- money (lots of cash) in a perfumed pink envelope

LOVE VOCABULARY: Look at the following collocates of the word 'love'. Choose 5 and write down one question for each word. Ask other students your questions. Write down the new 'love words' you meet as you meet new conversation partners:

puppy ~ deep ~ true ~ head over heels in ~ ~ at first sight fall in ~ madly in ~ burning ~ everlasting ~ obsessive ~ secret ~ my ~ blind ~ platonic ~ make ~

CONVERSATION: These are all symbols of love in America, Britain, Australia etc. Are they good symbols of love or strange? Talk about each one, and then talk about the symbols of love in your own culture / country:

- red roses
- Valentine cards
- signing a Valentine's card with a kiss mark ( x ) instead of your name
- lace
- Cupid
- love birds
- perfume
- lingerie
- a red heart
